COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course is a one-hour pass-fail online course that satisfies half of Clemson University's academic and professional development requirements for political science majors. All assignments will be distributed online via Canvas® and should be turned in to the instructor via Canvas®. Please note the intensity of this course, due to condensing a semester's-worth of material into just a few short weeks!

OBJECTIVES: This course is designed for senior political science majors. Through active engagement, students will:

- Reflect on what they have learned and accomplished during their college education—particularly as a Political Science major
- Devote some time to assessing their future career plans, including preparing a formal resume and cover letter
- Explore cross-disciplinary issues, current research, career options, and ethical issues related to the study of political science.

REQUIRED READING: There is no required text for this course.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS: Final grades consist of the following components:

Three Online Assignments (75%)

There are three online assignments that will be posted and submitted via Canvas®. Each assignment is out of 100 points and is worth 25% of your total course grade. Details for each assignment are available in the "Assignments" folder on the "Modules" page of Canvas®. Assignments must be turned in no later than their assigned date; see the late policy below. You are highly encouraged to get things completed and out of the way as early as possible.

Submission of Best POSC Paper Written for a Previous Class (12.5%)

This assignment simply requires you to submit what you deem to be the "best" paper you have written in a previous political science class. Students must first review the "Best Paper Rubric" posted on Canvas; submissions that do not seem to follow the criteria will be deleted and students will be required to submit a different, more appropriate paper. Note that this assignment is not asking for the paper on which you received the highest grade, but instead one that exemplifies your best mastery of political science concepts, critical thinking, applied research, assertive and evidence-based argumentation, writing, and proper citation practices. The paper will not be re-graded anew; rather, it will be used in the department's self-assessment and for re-accreditation purposes. Please upload your chosen paper as a Word document on Canvas no later than Wednesday, July 26th at 11:59pm.

Completion of a Senior Survey (12.5%)

The Department of Political Science at Clemson University conducts this senior survey to gather information about our graduating students with an eye toward improving the education we offer to our majors. (There is an additional, separate "exit survey" the department will administer immediately prior to graduation.) The answers you provide will be kept strictly anonymous and will be considered in the aggregate only. Completing the Senior Survey is worth 9% of your final grade. The deadline to complete the survey is Friday, August 4th at 11:59pm.

* If you have any questions concerning an assignment, please contact me via email ASAP. If you have technical difficulties accessing Canvas® material, please contact both CCIT (phone: 864-656-3494 or email: ITHELP@clemson.edu) and Dr. Curtis ASAP. *******

GRADING POLICY: POSC 4990 is a pass/fail course.

- 65-100 = Pass
- 0-64 = Fail

LATE POLICY: All assignments may be turned in late but will be penalized 10 points (a full letter grade) per day! No assignments will be accepted after 11:59pm on Sunday, August 6th to allow adequate time for grading before final course grades are due. Students are welcome to submit assignments early, and I strongly recommend they complete all assignments well in advance of their due date.

COMMITMENT TO DIVERSITY (aka Title IX Policy): Clemson University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, pregnancy, national origin, age, disability, veteran's status, genetic information or protected activity in employment, educational programs and activities, admissions and financial aid. This includes a prohibition against sexual harassment and sexual violence as mandated by Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. This Title IX policy is located on the Campus Life website. Ms. Alesia Smith is the Clemson University Title IX Coordinator, and the Executive Director of Equity Compliance. Her office is located at 223 Brackett Hall, 864-656-0620. Remember, email is not a fully secured method of communication and should not be used to discuss Title IX issues.

Clemson University aspires to create a diverse community that welcomes people of different races, cultures, ages, genders, sexual orientation, religions, socioeconomic levels, political perspectives, abilities, opinions, values and experiences.

ACADEMIC HONESTY POLICY: I have a zero tolerance policy regarding academic dishonesty. Violations of any kind, including—but not limited to—cheating or plagiarism, are unacceptable and will be seriously prosecuted. Note that plagiarism includes borrowing ideas and paraphrasing them within a paper without properly citing them, copying passages directly from sources without enclosing them in quotation marks, purchasing or stealing another person's paper to turn in, or having someone else write an assigned paper. Plagiarism also includes submitting your own identical work for more than one assignment or course without prior approval from both instructors. I highly recommend that you review the "Plagiarism Packet" posted in the "Resources" module on Canvas®. If you have further questions regarding plagiarism, you should consult Clemson University's current Undergraduate Announcements catalog for information on rules and regulations related to academic integrity. If you have any doubt about what is or is not permissible, ask first.

Clemson University's official statement on academic integrity is as follows: "As members of the Clemson University community, we have inherited Thomas Green Clemson's vision of this institution as a 'high seminary of learning.' Fundamental to this vision is a mutual commitment to truthfulness, honor, and responsibility, without which we cannot earn the trust and respect of others. Furthermore, we recognize that academic dishonesty detracts from the value of a Clemson degree. Therefore, we shall not tolerate lying, cheating, or stealing in any form." See the Student Handbook or <http://www.clemson.edu/academics/academic-integrity/> for more information.

DISABILITY POLICY: Clemson University values the diversity of our student body as a strength and a critical component of our dynamic community. Students with disabilities or temporary injuries/conditions may require accommodations due to barriers in the structure of facilities, course design, technology used for curricular purposes, or other campus resources. Students who experience a barrier to full access to a class should let the professor know, and make an appointment to meet with a staff member in Student Accessibility Services as soon as possible. You can make an appointment by calling 864-656-6848 or by emailing studentaccess@lists.clemson.edu. Students who receive Academic Access Letters are strongly encouraged to request, obtain and present these to their professors as early in the term as possible so that accommodations can be made in a timely manner. To ensure proper accommodations, I must receive your letter no later than Friday, July 21st. It is the student's responsibility to follow this process each semester.
